DCI WEEKLY

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

Office personnel were heavily involved in the preparations for the President's groundbreaking ceremony and everyone participated in press escort duty on the day of the ceremony.

From all reports, the DCI's commencement day speech at Bryant College was well received.

Cable News Network aired a three-part series on CIA somewhat sooner than had been anticipated. Our forebodings regarding its content proved to be essentially unfounded. The series was not very newsworthy or troublesome. CNN presented some history of the Agency, concentrated heavily on old and current covert actions, and had bland commentary from former DCIs Colby and Turner. CNN traced the covert action approval process through the NSC to the White House and President, but noted that CIA is the executor, not the policymaker of covert actions. CNN also briefly mentioned that CIA's main function is the collection and analysis of information. Some effort was made to present a balanced picture.

Visits and Appearances

Congressman Bill Young, member of HPSCI, requested a briefing for 20 of his constituents who are members of the Chamber of Commerce in St. Petersburg, Florida. On 29 May John McMahon and Dick Kerr will address the group which will be visiting the building.

With the acceptance on 22 May by E. Gordon Gee, President, West Virginia University, eight presidents/chancellors are now scheduled to visit on 15 June. An agenda has been formulated and an explanatory memorandum has been sent to the senior Agency officials who are expected to participate. We are attempting to include among the Agency officials who will be attending the luncheon for the college/university presidents an alumnus or alumna from each president's institution. They will be seated at the tables next to their college presidents.

Briefings were given to:

25X1 -- [redacted]

-- DIA officials at the Pentagon

-- NSA analysts

-- NSA computer interns

25X1 [redacted] served as a panel member on a producer/consumer relations seminar for DI analysts.
